

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence Is at Your Door

Barre proof is what you want, and the statement of this highly respected resident will banish all doubt:

Mrs. N. M. Nelson, 20 Merchant street, Barre, says: "A severe attack of grippe had left my kidneys weak, and instead of getting better, I became worse. The slightest housework tired me, and if I was on my feet for an hour or so, sharp pains across my back made me stop and rest. I paid out over one hundred dollars for doctors' treatments and medicines, but got no relief and finally became discouraged. Doan's Kidney Pills removed the trouble, and I have never been without a supply on hand since."

Price 50c, at all dealers'. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Nelson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RECENT DEATHS

OF VERMONTERS

Dr. W. G. Kimball, Who Died at Huntington, Mass., Was Native of Topsham and Spent Early Life in Vermont.

Dr. W. G. Kimball, one of the better-known physicians in western Massachusetts, died Wednesday in his home in Huntington, Mass., after an illness of two weeks, resulting from a general breakdown. Dr. Kimball had been in poor health for some time but had continued his practice until two weeks ago, when he was confined to his bed. He was sixty-eight years old. Dr. Kimball was born in Topsham, Vt., Dec. 25, 1846, the son of Joseph P. Kimball and Melvina Greene. He was a lineal descendant of Richard Kimball, who came to America from England in 1634 and settled within the present limits of the city of Boston. His minority, with the exception of three years spent in Illinois, was passed in his native state. He was orphaned in childhood and lived on a farm.

By his own efforts he gained an education, graduating from the Bradford (Vt.) academy and Dartmouth college where he received his degree in 1875. After graduation he became resident physician at Rainsford Island, Boston, and later held a similar position in the hospital for the insane at Northampton.

In 1877 he moved to Worthington, Boston, where he remained until 1885 when he took a post-graduate course in New York. That same year he settled in Huntington and had lived there ever since.

Dr. Kimball was a member of the Huntington Masonic lodge and was a Republican in politics. He served as chairman of the school board for seven years and held various other town offices. From 1890 to 1909 he served as medical examiner for Hampshire county and resigned then because of the interference of the office with his professional duties. He represented his district in the legislature in 1895 and 1896.

In 1878 he married Miss Laura Bartlett of Claremont, N. H. Dr. Kimball is survived by his widow, his son, William J. Kimball, and three grandchildren, all of Huntington.

WAS PROMINENT MASON.

William H. Vinton of Brattleboro Passed Away Friday.

Brattleboro, Oct. 23.—William Henry Vinton, 79, senior member of the paper manufacturing firm of William H. Vinton & Son, past grand senior warden of the grand lodge of Masons of Vermont, who recently was made a 33d degree Mason and who had been at the head of all the local Masonic bodies, died yesterday at his home, 15 Green street, of paralysis of the heart. He had been in failing health for two years with a complication of diseases, but had been active in the conduct of his business, having been at the paper mill Saturday. He did not take to his bed until Tuesday. His condition improved Wednesday, but Thursday it took a decided turn for the worse.

Mr. Vinton was made a 33d degree Mason in Boston, Sept. 21, being the third resident of Brattleboro to receive that honor. Last week Wednesday evening he was honored at a gathering of 300 Masons in the Masonic temple here, who assembled to congratulate him upon his elevation to that degree and to present him with a handsome loving cup suitably inscribed.

Mr. Vinton was born in Fitchburg, Mass., Nov. 7, 1836, a son of Timothy and Caroline (Woodcock) Vinton. At the age of eight years he came with his parents to Brattleboro, where he attended school. When a young man he entered the paper mill of his father and learned the business of making blotting and stereotype paper, a product widely and very favorably known. After the death of his father, Jan. 4, 1860, he continued the business, taking his son, William B., into partnership under the firm name of William H. Vinton & Son.

Mr. Vinton was a Republican in politics and always took a strong interest in all things that pertained to the welfare of the town. He served one year as chairman of the board of bailiffs and the same year was chairman of the board of selectmen, the only man who ever held both offices at the same time. He continued as chairman of the selectmen for nine consecutive years. In 1908 he was a candidate for state senator but was defeated for the nomination.

He was worshipful master of Columbian lodge in 1866 and 1867 and became a charter member of Brattleboro lodge at its organization in 1881 and was its first master, serving three terms. At different times he served at the head of the chapter, council and commandery and as worthy patron of Bingham chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. He was at the time of his death T. P. M. of Webster lodge of Perfection, 14th degree Mason, organized here last year, and had been a past grand senior warden of the grand lodge of Vermont. He was president of the Brattleboro Masonic Building association, a member of the Vermont Wheel club, a director of the People's National bank and a incorporator of the Vermont Savings bank.

Mr. Vinton married in 1860 Emma Amelia Samuel, daughter of Edward Samuel of Brattleboro. One child, William B. Vinton, was born to them and is the sole immediate surviving relative. Mrs. Vinton died Dec. 12, 1888.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple. The body will lie in state in the parlors from 1:30 to 2:30, and the services will be open to the public. Rev. Roy M. Houghton, pastor of the Center Congregational church, will be the officiating clergyman and the Knight Templar service will be used.

SHAVING THE PIG.

An Incident That Chief Justice Chase Wanted to Forget.

Salmon P. Chase, governor of Ohio, senator of the United States, secretary of the United States treasury and chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, once had an encounter with a pig that is worth telling.

When a boy he attended a private boarding school kept by his uncle, the Episcopal bishop of Ohio. He did the chores for his uncle during the school term and worked on the farm during the summer. One day his uncle told his nephew that he should kill and dress a pig at the close of the school that day.

With no little difficulty the boy caught the pig and killed it. And now the question was how to get the bristles off. He had heard of farmers scalding hogs, so he scalded the pig into a barrel of hot water. He either held the pig in the water too long, or did not have it hot enough, for in spite of all his scraping
